Peat has run for the hills with this giving rich honey, Crunchy Nut cornflakes if you will, milk chocolate and a hint of coffee. Joel Harrison

Rich chocolate, cream and caramel. Slight sherry smell. Dried fruits and glacé cherries. Delicious rich palate. Quite fiery and exciting and then flavours carry through to the finish. Lucy Britner

A balancing act of rich honey, a superbly light peat, oak surfaces and sour cherries. Neil Ridley

A hint of sea salt on the nose, it is partnered with craft alehouse pork crackling, instant coffee granules and allspice. Sandalwood is also present. On the palate there are salted liquorice notes which combine well with oak spices and a brown sugar and rum sweetness to give a big flavour, which is also seen in the spiced and vanilla driven finish.
